

BMWDFW Sidecar Saturday Saturday, 5 November, 2011

Time to dig out that sidecar rig, buff and spit shine the hack and get ready to ride! All are welcome and we'd like to see some passengers in those rigs. We're hoping that the airhead contingent and the rest of us will come out to support and escort the brave souls with the extra wheel. That's right; you're going to be in your own parade!

Bring your rig, your airhead, or just your bike to breakfast at LePeeps at Harwood and Central on Saturday, 5 Nov. From there, Rick will lead the hacks, followed by the airhead escorts, followed by the "other" bike escorts to BMW Motorcycles of Ft. Worth. Once there, get a picture of you and your rig and we'll send you the digital file for your album or to make your Christmas cards unique.

At the dealership we'll do some ogling, absolutely truthful storytelling, discuss maintenance tips and generally socialize before we leave for a route to lunch.

The route to lunch will be through some interesting roads in the metroplex, specifically designed to stay off the highways to keep the driving easy. We'll plan to leave the dealership with the hackers and escorts to Twisted Root Burger in Roanoke about 1030. After lunch it's a short ride home and the afternoon free for some of your other activities.

See you on Saturday, 5 November for the first ever Sidecar Saturday. Comb your hair and wear your "Sunday best" riding gear. We're taking pictures of you and your rig and sending them to you. You're going to enjoy lunch, too, not to mention the sparkling companionship.

Get this one on your calendar and join us for some fun!
